ATTENDANCE NOTES

The Orioles played 42 night games in 1956, 4 of which were played as the second half of twilight-night double-headers. The largest crowd to see an Oriole game last year was on the night of May 25 when 37,070 fans attended the game against the New York Yankees. 33,791 followers attended the Memorial Day double-header with the Boston Red Sox. The average crowd for a 1956 night game was 14,044. Five Sunday double-headers plus the Memorial day double-header attracted an average of 21,410. Six single Sunday games drew an average of 11,414. Six Saturday afternoon games averaged 8,669 whereas seven weekday afternoon games averaged 8,915.

In 1956, the Orioles made the largest gain in home attendance in the American League showing a rise of 49,162 over 1955, in a period when total American League attendance showed a drop of 1,049,288 under the previous year. With the N. Y. Yankees, the Baltimore team was one of only 2 teams showing increased road attendance.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Longest 1956 Winning Streak: 6 Games (July 12 through July 18).

Longest 1956 Losing Streak: 5 Games (June 3 through June 6); June 26 through June 30); September 3 through September 7).

An American League Record was tied on June 21 when the Orioles and White Sox could manage a combined total of only two hits. Each side collected a single safety but Nellie Fox's double followed a walk and tallied the only run of the contest. Jack Harshman went the route to win; Connie Johnson went 7 innings (and lost) for the Birds; George Zuverink hurled one frame.

The Average Time of an Oriole game last year was 2:30.6.

The Day After Bob Nieman began his 20-game hitting streak that set a new Oriole team record, Bob Boyd initiated a 19-game streak. Nieman's streak ran from August 17 through September 7; Boyd hit steadily from August 18 through September 6.

George Kell, who currently holds the record for fewest errors in a season (9 in 1957 games in 1950), almost annexed another record last year. Beginning in 1955, Kell put together a string of 70 consecutive errorless games before he committed a miscue on July 3 in New York. William E. Kamm holds the record with 75 games in 1928. Kell surpassed the old runner-up mark of 54 held by Stanley Hack of the Chicago Cubs, set in 1942.

The Orioles Won 12 more games in 1956 (69-85) than in 1955 (57-97) and showed the best improvement in the American League last year.

Bill Wight allowed only 7 home runs by the opposition in the 175 innings he worked last year, the lowest number by any pitcher in the American League who pitched over 154 innings. Nearest pitcher to him was Ray Moore who allowed 12 in 185 innings.

91 Home Runs by the Oriole club in 1956 far surpassed the old club record of 54, set in 1955.

Orioles Were Second in the league in sacrifice bunts last year, laying down 84 to trail White Sox's total of 86 by 2. George Kell, with 14 sacrifice bunts, tied Chicago's Luis Aparicio for league leadership.

Oriole Pitchers stopped Mickey Mantle's homer output cold in Memorial Stadium. The Yankee slugger failed to connect for a single circuit wallop all season in Baltimore, only park in which he failed to hit a homer. Mantle hit only .219 (7-for-32) in Baltimore, 134 points under league-leading mark of .353.

George Kell, who has a lifetime total of 1,962 hits, is only 38 hits short of the hallowed 2,000-hit mark. Only Stan Musial (2,781), Mickey Vernon (2,305), Ted Williams (2,189), Enos Slaughter (2,168), Pee Wee Reese (2,063), and Red Schoendienst (2,000) have 2,000 hits among all active major league players. Kell will be the 100th major league player to collect 2,000 hits.

Oriole Record in 1956 shows Birds were in 4th place for 2 days, in 5th for 62 days, in 6th for 84 days, in 7th for 2 days, and in 8th for 16 days. Orioles were never below 6th place after May 6 and did not move above the fifth spot after August 3.

FILM ON ORIOLES

A twenty-six minute motion picture in color, "Play Ball With The Orioles," produced by the Gunther Brewing Company in cooperation with the Orioles, is now available for use by interested organizations. For details, write to The Orioles' Public Relations Office, Memorial Stadium, Baltimore 18, Maryland.
